These facts were elicted in an examination which took place before Superior Judge Clark, when the densitions of Dr. Shorb and his wife. the depositions of Dr. Shorb and his wite were taken.

charged with having performed an abortion on Mrs. Swanton, which resulted in the death of the victim. She is charged with murder. The case was continued until December 6.

The ground upon which the continuance was secured is rather anomalous. It was shown that the stenographer, one Westcott, who took the notes of the testimony of the preliminary examination has been, owing to protracted debauchery, ill ever since. He is unable to transcrible his notes and no one can do this but him. It is doubtful whether he will ever be able to. Without a transcript of the evidence taken in the lower court it will be impossible to proceed with the trial of the case.

They Cannot Separate.

Superior Judge McKinley yesterday decided the divorce case of Emma M. Kelley vs. G. J. Kelley. Mrs. Kelley, some time ago, sued for a divorce from her hunband on ground of desertion. Her husband entered a cross complaint and asked for a divorce on the same ground. It seems that both parties were willing to separate but neither was willing that the other should secure the divorce. Judge McKinley decided the matter by denying a divorce to either plaintiff or defendant.

Judge Cheney, after hearing a statement of the case, released the petitioners.

Maj. Jones presented the following letter, which was referred to the Special Committee, with power to act:

"We understand that it is the rule of your department to christen cruisers of the second-class by the names of cities of that class. Los Angeles, by the recent census, is shown to be the second cliv in population west of the Rocky Mountains. It seems to us appropriate that the new cruiser of the second-class about to be constructed at San Francisco, should be named after of our city. The Board of Directors of the Los Augeles Chamber of Commerce has directed that the request of the chamber that the name of Los Augeles be given to the new cruiser when launched be transmitted to you. We trust that you may decide to confer this honor upon our city."

The matter of the next citrus fair was brought up, and on motion of Maj. Jones, the secretary was instructed to ascertain the desires of the fruit-growers in relation to the matter.

Clayton White, the attorney who so brutally assaulted his wife on Boyle Heights last summer, and who was given a long term in the County Jail by way of punishment, was released yesterday, his time hav ing expired.

The general was siting at his desk, writing, when White dor into the adjoining room of the same office, where J. B. Duniap, the attorney, has a desk. White spoke to Gen. Mansfield as he passed through, and his salutation was contreously returned. White had only been in the room a short time, when he went to the window, and commenced calling across the street to an acqualutance, tring to attract his attention. The noise disturbed Gen, Mansfield, who left his desk and went to the door, when he very courteously asked White to desist, as he was annoying him. White turned and made some rem rk, which was not unsatisfactory, and the general returned to his desk. White was quiet for a few seconds, when he again commenced calling out of the window, and Mr. Duniap, to quiet him, said he would go down and tell the man White wanted to see to come up, at the same time leaving the room for that purpose. As White continued to call, Gen. Mansfield again left his desk, and going to the door, again courteously reentered, and passed through the connecting to call, Gen. Mansfield again left his desk, and going to the door, again courteously requested White to stop his noise, at the same time remarking to him that he must remember that he was in his (Mansfield's) office, that his conduct was offensive to him, for the reason that it attracted unpleasant attention, and reminded White that he had only recently been released from prison, for which reason he (the general) did not wish any notoriety through him. This last remark of the general's seemed to infuriate White, who turned and inmediately, without warning, struck him a blow on the side of the face. The general was taken completely by surprise, and

New Yorkers Are Afraid of Wires. A new practical application of elec-The machine is connected by a wire with one of the ordinary light currents and by touching a button a small but which one can ignite the ordinary rod saturated with alcohol. One of these apparatus had just been placed upon the cigar counter of a big down town restaurant. Its use was somewhat unfamiliar to the habitues of the place, and I was told to watch them. As various gentlemen finished their lunch they usually approached the cigar stand to light their weeds. In several cases they hesitated to apply the rod to the electric spark even after the process was explained to them, although the handle of the rod was evidently composed of hard rubber or some other insulated material. Finally an elderly gentleman approached the machine, and on being told how it worked insisted on holding the point of the rod about two inches away from the light, giving as an explanation his disinclina tion to "monkey with electric currents."

A bystander had finally to light it for him. This goes to show that the public is somewhat afraid of live wires .- New

The value of pepper in cooking seems to have been known long ago. Its use as a medicine was common in the days of Hippocrates, who applied it, moist ened with alcohol, to the skin of his patients. Just as sugar and tea have been in past times so dear as only to be within the reach of the wealthy, so pepper wa in the Middle Ages a very costly condiment. So much was it valued that a small nacket was at that time deemed a Real Estate.

ORANGE LANDS FOR ALL

THE SEMI-TROPIC LAND AND WATER CO.

Have about 20,000 acres left of their original purchase of 29,000 acres of the best Orange Land in Southern California.

We have always sold our lands for $200 per acre, until this fall. Now we have reduced the prices and fixed our terms to bring the land within the reach of all. We are arranging two irrigation districts under the "Wright's Irrigation Act," and are selling land in one of these districts at $75 per acre, with a rebate of $15 per acre for improvements, to be put on the land by the purchaser the first year. This leaves the net price

Payable $10 per acre cash, the balance in three equal payments, due in two, three and four years, at 8 per cent. interest, In the other district we sell the land for $100 per acre, with a rebate of $25 for improvements put on the land by the purchaser the first year, which leaves the net price

To be paid $10 per acre cash, balance in two, three and four years, at 8 per cent, interest.

Our lands lie four miles west of San Bernardino and Colton, on the Santa Fé and Southern Pacific reilroads, seven miles north of Riverside, and we are prepared to establish the fact that in quality and location they are not excelled in this country. Our elevation is 1300 feet above sea level, being about 400 feet bigher than Riverside, and almost entirely free from frost

Those who long for a sight of the snow fields of the Eastern homes may find six inches of "the beautiful" in Bear Valley, a few hours' ride from this city.

THE Eastern money market is still in a shaky condition. A large Philadelphia stock firm failed yesterday, and there have been runs on several savings banks.

CHICAGO men have made up a big pool to purchase real estate in that city. They evidently regard the World's Fair as a useful cow to be milked, and do not intend to let the opportunity slip.

THE fact that all the rooms in the Raymond have been engaged, fully a month in advance of the opening. shows plainly that Southern California has not faller off in the estimation of Easterners as a winter resort.

NEARLY 7000 pounds of attar of roses were exported from Turkey last year, worth $350,000. Here is a chance for Southern California. It is said that our roses are deficient in perfume, but that must be a base slander.

It is announced that Ward McAllister is to be dethroned. His absurd book is said to have proved the straw to break the camel's back; and the older families of New York society, whose positions are assured, positively refuse have anything to do with him. The "first families" rise in our estimation.

It is no wonder that a large amount of money was spent in the New York municipal contest. The patronage which Tammany Hall controls in New York is something enormous. Over $1,000,000 a month is paid in salaries and wages, and nearly as much more goes to contractors. A percentage of all this is contributed for political TRUE AND FALSE WORKINGMEN.

The treatment of the Sunday closing question by the city government is not an edifying spectacle, or one which is calculated to increase the respect entertained by citizens for the municipal powers that be.

The subject has not, from the be ginning, been with upon its merits, but from the standpoint of political expediency. Every effort has been made to avoid bringing the matter to an issue, until the Council was forced to take some action upon it. It has been a sort of political shuttlecock the batteries being the Council on one side and the Mayor on the other. It is now many months since a petition, signed by nearly seven thousand citizens, was presented to the Council, asking that an ordinance be passed closing the saloons on Sundays. A numerously-signed but smaller petition was also presented against the movement. These petitions were referred to a committee, where they were allowed to slumber for a long time, apparently in the hope that the matter would be forgotten. After considerable presure the question was brought up in the Council, and that body finally hit upon the brilliant plan of escaping responsability in the matter by putting the city to the expense of a special election, to let citizens express their views. Then came Mayor Hazard's turn at the bat, and he vetoed the election ordinance-after waiting until it was too late to pass the ordi nance over his veto-telling the councilmen that they ought to have the courage of their opinions and not try to shift the responsibility on the people. Another ordinance calling an election was promptly passed, vetoed and passed over the veto. The election was held, resulting in a majority of nearly 600 votes for Sunday closing.

Then came the turn of the Council. A special meeting was held, so as to force Mr. Hazard to act on the ordinawful word-to bury the hatchet, form | ance before election day-December 1st-and the ordinance was passed by the close vote of 5 to 4, each councilman, with one exception, carefully excusing his vote as he cast it, most of them throwing the responsibility on their constituents, and all apparently actuated, not by any conviction of the rights or wrongs of the question at issue, but solely by the effect which their decision would probably have as a vote-winner or loser.

The ordinance was no sooner passed than it was rushed over to Mr. Hazard, in order that he should put himself on record before the primaries of yesterday. The clock of Mr. Hazard's office pointed, however, to the hour of four. the office was closed and the Mayor argument took place between him and Councilman Hamilton, each claiming that the one desired to force the other to show his hand" and so put him "in a hole" politically.

All this is very unseemly, undignified and painful to right-thinking citizens, whatever their opinion may be on the question at issue. It shows that members of the Council are influenced, not by motives of public good, but by petty sentiments of political self-interest, worthy only of the ward politician. The closing of saloons on Sundays must be either right or wrong. Every member of the Council must have a decided opinion as to whether it is right or wrong. They should have acted upon that conviction, like men, and not have made such an abject spectacle of themselves They exhibited no such hesitation in voting upon the granting of franchises involving large sums of money, to

There was little order or system about it: those around him strove from beginning to end to erect barriers to defend him against cou-stant interruption, but the President himself was always the first to break them down. He disliked anything that kept people from him who wanted to see him, and although the continual contact with importunity which he could not satisfy, and with distress which he could not always relieve, wore terribly upon him and made him an old man before his time, he would never take the necessary measures to defend himself. He could ued to the end receiving these swarms of visitors, every one of whom, even took something the most welcome, took something from him in the way of wasted nervous out, and they well know the penalty of disobedience. DUBLIN, Nov. 20 .- The statement is made in National circles here that Parnell will resign his seat in Parliament at the end of this session and offer himself for reelection. At the great National meeting today the Lord Mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime Ireland would take notice of, was one which Parnell was incapable of committing, namely, treason to his command. Justin Mc-Carthy, in moving a vote of confidence in Parnell, said that he did not ignore the serious nature of the question, but was sure it would not cost them a single friend. Timothy Healy seconded Mc-Carthy's motion, and said that for Irishmen Parnell was less a man than an institution. McCarthy's resolution carried amid great enthusiasm.

The government is acting energetically against the Nihilists in Paris. L Matin says that the police believe that the killing was the act of private vengeance. THE "SAMPLE" FIEND. He Sends for Samples of Everything |New York Sun. |

Merchants in this city are sorely pestered by cranks and others who write letters asking for samples. Nothing is too big or too small for the Nothing is too big or too small for the fiends (that's what the merchants cality them) to ask for. Anything of value, from a jewsharp to a piano, a shred of calico to a roll of cloth, a package of calico to a roll of cloth, a package of catmeal, a barrel of flour, a paper covered half-dime novel, a gilt-edged Bible bound in morocco, all have been at and are asked for by the sample searchers. A Fourteenth-street piano house less than a week ago got a letter from a dealer in a Western city asking him to ship a sample piano. "I would like to sell the piano you manufacture," the dealer said, "because I have been told that it is the best. If you will ship me one as a sample, of course, I will pay the freight and cartage expenses in New York if there are any."

A Broadway house got this: "I am about to lay in a stock of blankets, comforts and rugs for the winter. I am going to make a special department in my store this winter for this kind of goods. The drummer threatened to have him arrested for attempting to obtain the things under false pretense, and then left him.

It is the demands of the seekers after small things that create the most trou-ble. Almost all merchants are willing to send samples of their small wares to anyone who has any idea of purchasing, but it is estimated that at least one-but it is estimated that at least one-half of the requests for samples come from persons who never buy, and who really have no use for and don't want the samples that they ask for. They seem to write simply with the idea of getting something for nothing.

The sample habit is not of recent origin. Thirty years ago at an American institute fair a man who had a patent flour to sell made griddle cakes and muffins and gave them to visitors as samples. That was the beginning of the thing. Some years later the proprietors of large retail stores advertised that they would gladly send samples of their wares to persons who lived out of town and who could not afford to come to New York. This enabled purchasers to see what they were abled purchasers to see what they were buying before they sent their money through the malls. It was these ad-vertisements that fully developed the habit, and where it used to take a few dollars, or at least a few hundreds a year to supply the demand for samples, it now takes thousands. Large houses matters with which politics had no concern.

large clothing houses and tailors say that they get a good many letters and spend a good deal of money for samples. They save a good deal by cutting up the odd places of cloth that they cannot use in the manufacture of clothing and sending them as samples. "The sample habit," said a merchant with whom a Sun reporter talked, "has about reached its greatest development, I think. The merchants built it up and they will have to kill it off. It has become too large a drain, and is eating into profits to an alarming extent. Of course, it will never be got large clothing houses and tailors say Of course, it will never be got rid of entirely, for it isn't desirable to do so. President Adams Promises to Withdraw From the Union Pacific.

A Slight Advance in Prices on the New York Stock Exchange-Barker Bros. of Philadelphia Assign.

Bu Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, Nov. 20 .- [By the Associated Press.] The World says that the greatest piece of news in Wall street is that John D. and William Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnates, have acquired control of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which practically means the ousting of Henry Villard. They are known to have been heavy buyers of Northern Pacific preferred during the late decline in values. The North American Company, by its ownership of securities, had control of the Northern, but much of the first-named company's assets have been closed out during the past few days in liquidation of loans. The Rockefellers bought in the Northern Pacific at the request of Gould. They have a great amount of surplus money for which they have been seeking advantageous investments. The earnings of the Northern Pacific are not the largest in the history of the company. The company, however, has been suffering from entanglement with other Villard corporations and the purpose of the Rockefellers is stated to be to remove it from them.

There is a scheme on foot to provide connections for the Northern Pacific which will make it an uninter-rupted rail line from the Atlantic to the Pacific. By alliance with the Wis-the Pacific. By alliance with the Wisconsin Central it already reaches from Puget Sound to Chicago, and its route thence, it is said, will be by the way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

At Villard's office the following statement was made: "It is not true that Villard has given up his passage to America as published this morning. He will sail on the Aller today."

The Northern Pacific directors declared the regular quarterly dividend

The statement that the Rockefeller interests and their associates, generally known as the Standard Oil party, had increased their holdings of Northern Pacific preferred by 100,000 shares, caused much discussion in regard to Villard's interests in the property. The exact amount of this it is difficult to estimate, and none of the Rockefeliers could be seen today about the reported purchase. none of the Rockefellers could be seen today about the reported purchase. President Oakes said: "I confidently believe that the Rockefellers and their associates have lately added largely to their holdings of the stocks and bonds of the Northern Pacific Company." He stated positively that there was no truth in the report that Villard would retire or be forced out of the company. Other parties identified with both interests say that the 127,000 shares of preferred stock held by the North American Company were hypothecated to secure loans. They were sold by the creditors and then bought in by the Rockefellers. The officers of the North American admit that some of its securities were sold, but decline to state curities were sold, but decline to state how many or what they consisted of. There is a possibility that the Rocke-fellers may become hostile to Villard. on account of recent developments in the market. TWO DEADLY SALOON AFFRAYS.

In Each Case a Gambler Was the Assassin-One of the Victims an ex-Alderman-The Brazill Murder Mystery-A Vitriol Throwing Flend.

The tidal waves that sweep over great cities are in their way-nearly as destructive as those that agitute the broad ocean and attack the might, shores of continents.

Judge Lynch emerges from obscurity and holds court, from there can be no appeal. Some hothcads talked of calling in his services at Chicago the other day, but wiser counsels prevailed, and an attempt will be made to meet the crisis with the regular methods of consti-

A crisis in Chicago?

It would seem so, for several sensational deeds have been perpetrated there of late, and the criminula are yet to be punished.

The tidal wave had its origin some weeks ngo in a fferce fight at McGarigle's rant and saloon between "Doe" Hagge and "Bad Jimmy" Connerton. Hagge was a big man and Connerton a little The latter was seated at table cating late supper when the former came in late supper when the former came in and renewed an old quarrel. "Doe" knocked "Bad Jimmy" down and "Bad Jimmy" responded by shooting "Doe" through the body. Then some one gave Haggerty a pistol, and he returned the compliment by sending a ball into Connerton's stomach. Then he was taken to a hospital-where he died. Connerton is recovering, and thinks he has a good plea of self defense to set up when brought to trial.

The McGarigle! who keeps the place

The McGarigle | who keeps the place where this tragedly occurred was formerly chief of detectives, then chief of police, next candidate for sheriff, and finally warden of Cook county hospital. While holding the last named position he got into trouble, was convicted of crime and sentenced to two years in the politentiary. He worked on the sympathies of Sheriff Matson so effectively that that officer accompanied him for a farewell visit to his home. panied him for a fareweit visit to his model.

McGarigle on reaching his residence slipped

HATHAWAY-WHELAN. where he remained until his case had been "fixed." Then he returned and went into business. A few nights after the Haggerty-Connerton affray he met Sheriff Matson in a north side saloon and offered him greeting. The sheriff respondered nim greeting. The sheriff responded by slug-ging his former prisoner all over the gin mill and chasing him out of doors. His Scandinavian brood boiled at recollection of the way he had been fooled, and nothing but the interference of friends prevented him from wreaking more summary ven geance than he did.

The town had hardly cooled off from the excitement of these two affairs when three others demanded its attention. Early on Sunday morning ex-Alderman Billy Who Sunday morning ex-Alderman 1911y Wholan and some friends visited Matt Hogan's saloon and began consuming wine by the quantity. Everybody, including the proprietos, had all the "fizz" he wanted. To leaving San Francisco, the funds quarreled This group at early dawn entered George

A. Hathaway, a gambler. He faid a small score owed at the bar and then spoke to the people gathered about the table. One word led to another. How the fuss began the case for the Savage heirs, and re-one of the main thoroughfares.

Before the coroner's jury he claimed that he acted in self defense, and that he was set upon by the exalterman and his in-exting of a canvasback duck. The witnesses to the murder—some of them at least—have disappeared, and the only pungishment so far meted out falls on Hogan, whose license has been revoked for keeping open at illegal hours. Hathaway, of course, is in jail awaiting trial.

Nearly contemporaneous with this crime was the assassination at Des Plaines, a Chicage suburb, of Michael Brazill, a manover 70 years of age. He was killed by a blow with some blunt instrument that fractured his skull while pottering about at early evening in a barn back of his residence. At the time of the slaying he cardense. At the time of the slaying he carried a lantern, which was found lying shattered by his side. Half an hour after Brazill entered the bara his corpse was picked up by neighbors, who at once notified the local police. These rural Hawk shaws telephoned to the Chicago anthorities, and then went to bed. When the city detectives arrived next day the assassin or assassins had secured a long start, and are yet at large. They took with them Brazill's pocketbook. This, with notes of hand aggregating $5,000, was recovered in a vacant lot. A large sum of money had been abstracted and carried off.

Arrest after arrest followed. Suburban calabooses" and city station houses soon lied up with suspected people, mostly tramps, who did not give satisfactory accounts of their wanderings because accurate diaries of their doings would involve confessions of petty crimes like the robbing of hen roosts and the surreptitious milking of cows. None of them could be milking of cows. None of them could be implicated in the murder, and in due course all received their liberty. Brazill was station master at Des Plaines, and by long years of toil and frugality had accumulated a small fortune. He was the money lender of the village, and one theory advanced is that he was killed by a debtor who could not meet his obligations; but this is hardly considered a tenable basis from which to prosecute an inquiry. All in all, however, the tidal wave of fiendishness reached its height at the moment when John Fox entered the house of ment when John Fox entered the house of Mrs. Kohler, knocked the woman down and poured vitriol over her face and neck. She straggled and sought to protect herself with an apron, but the flery fluid burned its way through clothes and flesh, indicting the west frightful wounds. Fox as these that mighty shores of continents.

Occasionally the metropolitan tidal wave is a moral one and destroys vice. More often it is the ease that crime gets the upper hand of the law, seizes justice by the throat and less-blood until the streets run year. This sort of an outbreak is always always and the police. He and Mrs. Kohler had lived to gether as man and wife until recently, when she turned him out of the house.

A row between the English lawyers representing the Savages, contestants in the Blythe will case at San Francisco, is the latest phase of that great legal sensation. The lawyers, ex-Lord High Sheriff William C. C. The rance, or queen, of this state may, possi-bly enough, have asked whether the maharance, or great queen, of England distributed sugar candy among the pop-ulation of the British Isles on the occasion of her jublice. THE FAIR NEXT MONTH.

Great Preparations in Progress Topics of Local Interest Commented Upon-Personals and Brevities.

The first number of the Parish Helper, a weekly journal to be published every Saturday by the Ladies' League of the First Universalist Parish, will appear today. Mrs. A. J. Spaulding is the editor, and the stated purpose of the journalistic venture will be "to serve the parish and the cause which it represents."

The Helper contains considerable information concerning the fourth annual fair which the League will hold in the church pariors beginning Wednesday, December 10, and continuing until the following Friday. For the fair the ladies have been making preparations for months, past and, according to the Helper, which ought to know, it will be the most satisfactory and attractive to the friends and patrons ever given.

There will be a fruit booth in charge of Mrs. O. H. Conger, where fruits for family use, canned, dried, preserved or jellied, can be purchased at reasonable prices; a domestic booth, presided over by Mrs. L. W. Kyle; a candy booth with Miss Lilly Keese-in charge; a bag booth, where Mrs. F. D. Jones will hold sway; a flower booth in charge of Miss Grace Wilder baby The Helper contains considerable in-

There will be plenty of other attractions, which are too numerous to men-Enough has been said to indicate that the fair will prove an event fully up to expectations and deserving of a most liberal patronage.

His Wife Fought for Him

Noble Rush keeps a small oyster house at Washington, and is the husband of a woman who believes in being a helpmeet with all the force of her vigorous character. The other day Noble got into trouble and the police court. He was charged with keeping an unlicensed bar. His attorney failed to appear at the trial, and Mrs. Rush thereupon filled the legal breach with her portly presence. She allowed that she knew a thing or two about law herself, and she defended her accused husband with she defended her accused husband with the fierce vigor of an indignant woman. The Track in Good Condition - Home Missionary Workers-An Evening of Song-A Successful Organ Recital.

Those who have not visited Sportsman's Park since the military exercises held there on Admission day, will be surprised at the improvements that have since been made by the Athletic Club in the way of making the place thoroughly adapted for outdoor sports and exercises.

A rectangular sixth-of-a-mile track has been carefully laid out and graded. has been carefully laid out and graded. Through the center a 120 yards straight-away track has been laid out. Both are about completed. The ground has also been put in condition for jumping, pole vaulting, etc., and the whole park nicely cleaned up. Work on the grand stand, which is to be built to the north of the track, will be begun in a day or so. It is likely that some of the lumber in the Haymarket stand will be purchased from the city and used in the structure, which is to have used in the structure, which is to have

The contestants may be found daily practicing on the track. In this connection it is carnestly urged that the public refrain from driving over the track.
